WELCOME

Welcome to the Eliot Community & Business Directory. This Directory is brought to you by the Eliot Festival Day Committee with support from the Town of Eliot. Our goal is to provide up-to-date community information to Eliot's residents and to showcase the Town's diverse businesses. The idea for a community directory came out of a conversation with our esteemed Town Clerk, Wendy Rawski, who envisioned the need for a town guide for new residents. Credit also goes to our former Town Manager, Dana Lee, who gave us a road map to identify funding for the project. Contributing to the creation, writing, and design of the Directory are Rosanne Adams (Eliot Historical Society), Rachel Schumacher (Schumacher Creative Design), and John Briggs (Hygrade Business Group).

The Eliot Community & Business Directory consists of four sections: The Eliot Community Directory, the Eliot Business Listing, business advertising, and the guide to the 40th Annual Eliot Festival Days celebration on September 25th, 2021. All addresses in the Directory are in Eliot unless otherwise noted.

We thank the local businesses who supported the Eliot Festival Days by purchasing display ads and bolded listings in the Directory. All the money goes directly to the Festival Day Committee to fund the 40th Annual Eliot Festival Days celebration. Please keep these businesses in mind when you make your daily purchasing decisions.

COMMUNITY DIRECTORY

TOWN HISTORY

Eliot was settled in 1623 and the area was known as “Middle Parish” and “Garden of Kittery” in the Town of Kittery. On March 1, 1810, it separated and became the Town of Eliot. In historic Eliot, residents worked in maritime occupations, ran grist and saw mills, farmed the land, raised livestock, built ships, and labored at making bricks. As the town grew, it retained a village atmosphere on its river’s edge and many of its farming areas in the east.

Modern Eliot has a Select Board/Town Manager form of government that was established through Town Charter in 2015. Eliot is a friendly, family oriented community in Southern York County with a population of about 6,700. It offers many services to its residents, yet maintains a charming small-town character. Safe neighborhoods, convenient shopping, exemplary schools, and recreational activities for all ages make Eliot a great place to live, work, and play.

MAINE MOTOR VEHICLE REGISTRATION

Maine law requires a Maine motor vehicle registration be applied for within 30 days of residency being declared or established. Every owner and/or operator of a motor vehicle must also establish and maintain motor vehicle liability insurance and present evidence of such upon request by a law enforcement officer. All motor vehicles bearing a Maine registration must pass an annual inspection, performed at an official inspection station, before being operated on any public roadway. Inspection dates are not related to date of birth.

The Town office processes annual vehicle registrations. It accepts cash, check, and debit/credit cards (with an added 2.5% fee.) More information can be found at www.eliotmaine.org/town-clerk/pages/motor-vehicle-registrations, or by contacting the Town Clerk's office at 207-439-1817.

Rapid Renewal is an online vehicle registration service that allows residents to renew their registrations 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Visit www1.maine.gov/online/bmv/rapid-renewal.

DRIVER'S LICENSES IN MAINE

Jury duty is normally served at York County Courthouse in Alfred. For more information, visit www.courts.maine.gov/juror/index.html.

THE BICENTENNIAL OF MAINE

Eliot began its year-long celebration of the State's Bicentennial in August of 2019, with opening ceremonies and raising of the Maine Bicentennial Flag. In March of 2020, just as the committee was prepared for an old fashioned Community Bean Supper, Covid-19 hit. Plans across the community had to be set aside. In April of 2021, the State declared that the celebration would continue, to be re-christened Maine's "200-Plus-One" Bicentennial Celebration.

The Eliot Celebrates Maine Bicentennial Committee searched for new and creative ways to respond, while abiding by Maine CDC Covid-19 protocols. Events included self-guided historical sites tours and open houses at historical buildings. The bean supper morphed into an Old Home Day picnic in August 2021 with music, activities for the children, honors to Fabyan Drake Award recipients, even Maine whoopie pies. A time capsule was created, commemorating the 2020/2021 years and sealed on Eliot Festival Day, September 25, 2021, bringing to a close our celebration of Maine's Bicentennial!

We are often asked by the families we serve, here at JS Pelkey & Son and Bernier Funeral Homes, why certain expressions and traditions exist in the funeral service industry. One of the most often asked questions is "Why send flowers to a memorial service or funeral, aren't they just a waste of money?" Well nothing could be further from the truth.

As my friend Todd Van Beck recently wrote in an article: Flowers are sent to funerals for several reasons. Flowers are a means of expression. It is often difficult for those mourning a death to put feelings into words. Flowers are a visual expression of love, sympathy, and respect. They are a way of lending support and sharing the burden of grief.

In addition to sending flowers to the funeral, there is a growing trend to send flowers to the home of the bereaved after the service. Some people also send flowers to the church in memory of the deceased.

Flowers create a background of warmth and beauty which adds to the dignity and consolation of the service. Those who have attended services where there were no flowers have noted that something was bereaved's feelings in the patterns of community support which are psychologically beneficial. Flowers, however, express the inexpressible – they are symbolic.

There are three points to be stressed, finally, in connection with the tradition of funeral flowers. First, the role of flowers are both symbolic and aesthetic. They add great value to the richness and meaning of the ritual. Second, flowers represent sympathy extended to the bereaved. Third, flowers are sent to both the living and the dead. They are sent to the living as comfort and as tokens of respect for the deceased.

We, at the JS Pelkey & Son and the Bernier Funeral Homes, hold the value of the work our local florists do in very high regard. We always encourage the families we serve to contact a local florist directly. Certainly there are national floral outlets that can be reached with a simple Google search but, honestly, the quality of these products are often substandard. Simply click the "Send Flowers" tab on our website and you will be directed to our list of trusted florists.

Please call us about any questions with which we may help.
